International Herb Association
www.iherb.org

The International Herb Association is holding a gathering rather than a traditional conference in 2019. We selected Ohio for the gathering so that we could be present for the United Plant Savers 25th Anniversary. This organization is doing important work for the herbal community by helping to preserve, protect and educate the public about some of the most threatened American native herbs.

We chose to hold our one-day meeting and conference and post-conference activities at Burr Oak Lodge to immerse ourselves in the Appalachian foothills. This state park facility provides attractive and affordable conference space, meals and accommodations.

Call the lodge at (740) 767-2112 by August 1st to reserve your room in the International Herb Association block.
